about me

I like paint. I like digital. I like beautiful. I'm a self-starting collaboration junkie who handles changes and ever-growing task lists with alacrity and charm. I can crack a joke and a tough problem at the same time. I believe that kindness, patience and servant leadership are the best ways to earn respect, and that purpose motivates passion. I've provided graphic, web, video and print solutions for churches and ministry for nearly ten years. If you need a powerful, passionately delivered message, a cool, compelling design or just a fresh idea, I'm the one you want on your team.
